

LEGIO PRIMA ADIUTRIX

This Warband is more at home on the deck of a trireme than on solid ground. Raised in AD 68 by Galba during his revolt against Nero, these battle-hardened marines proved themselves to be fierce fighters. Their emblem was a Capricorn, used alongside a winged pegasus, with a leaping dolphin emblazoned on their helmets.

Allegedly they were led by a 9-foot tall Arabian giant by the name of Gabara. According to Pliny the Elder, Gabara was so admired by his fellow soldiers that they worshipped him like a god. As we don't yet have a suitable miniature to represent Gabara, this Warband is led by Atergo Potentes Drusus, one of their many Centurions.
